Dear Parents,

A number of organisations have carried out research to look at the impact of lockdown on childrens' speech and language development, especially primary aged children.

They have found that children have missed so many opportunities to talk to other adults and children it is having an impact on their communication skills. The research has also shown that poor speech development can have long term-effects on learning.

We are creating as many opportunities as possible for the children to develop these skills and we would like your support by making the playground a mobile free zone.

Your children are so excited to see you at the end of the school day and want to tell you all that they have learned and what fun they have had with their friends.

Please support us to help your children develop their communication skills and speak to them about their day at school.

Very best wishes
